

DEQ LEADERSHIP AND EMPLOYEE DEVELOPMENT

TRAINING PROGRAM SUMMARY

I – OVERVIEW

PURPOSE: The Department of Environmental Quality Leadership/Employee Development Training Program provides employees of DEQ with opportunities to develop and sustain career skills that will augment their professional skills and enhance their individual careers.

PROGRAM SUMMARY: The DEQ Leadership Steering Committee has identified eight core competencies that are pertinent to the effective administration of the programs in the purview of DEQ. These competencies are listed in section II and include brief explanatory notes. Development of skills that are relevant to these competencies will enhance the careers of the employees in DEQ and improve the efficiency and effectiveness of DEQ as an agency.

TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES: A program has been developed over that past several years that includes training opportunities to help employees develop the skills necessary to achieve proficiency in the eight competencies. The available training courses are listed below in section III with a brief description of each course and a table that correlates the various competencies with the training opportunities. Section III also includes a table that correlates required training courses with various groups of DEQ employees. In addition, each Division has the ability to provide additional training opportunities that target the individual needs of the Division. All training opportunities may be limited by the budget that is available for travel and other related expenses.
